

CANCER CARE PROGRAMME AT HOME

FOR PEOPLE LIVING WITH CANCER

Quality care, adapted to your needs, throughout your care pathway

CANCER CARE

An inter-professional team providing specialised care in oncology

AT HOME

Home-based treatments and care are organised in close collaboration with HUG's Oncology Department and Geneva's social health network

#IMAD WITH YOU

ARE YOU BEING TREATED FOR CANCER AT HUG?

Are you in need of comprehensive care adapted to your needs?

imad's inter-professional oncology team (EISO) can provide you with the support you need in the comfort of your home.

imad's EISO team provides a comprehensive cancer care programme at home, which complements the care provided by HUG's Oncology Department. The EISO team delivers healthcare and other services that best meet your needs. These include → nursing care, help with daily activities, home adjustments, nutritional follow-up and social support. House visits are coordinated between the EISO team, the HUG medical team and members of Geneva's local care & support network.

A TEAM OF EXPERTS

The team comprises experienced nurses, community healthcare assistants and caregivers who work inter-professionally with → ergotherapists, dieticians and experienced oncology social workers. This team can act quickly to deliver coordinated support and specialized care adapted to your circumstances and needs, 7 days a week and, if needed, several times a day.

A MOBILISED NETWORK

EISO guarantees the continuity of optimal oncological care with in-patient and outpatient care, thanks to its close cooperation with other → imad teams, HUG's Oncology Department (including your oncologist), your GP, your family and members of the Geneva social health network. Geneva social health network notably includes the Ligue genevoise contre le cancer, OTIUM, Resiliam, As'trame, Proximos, your local pharmacy, etc.

WE RESPECT YOUR PRIVACY

imad's healthcare workers will always maintain confidentiality and ensure your privacy.

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

1

Any adult with cancer, living in the canton of Geneva and being treated for cancer by HUG is eligible for imad's cancer care programme at home.

2

HUG's Oncology Department will send a request for Homecare treatment to imad, based on jointly defined criteria.

3

imad will contact you to set up a first appointment at home. During this meeting, a referral nurse will assess your situation and make suggestions for your care. He or she will then become your main contact throughout your care pathway as well as for your family, your oncologist and your GP.
